Creating Opportunities, Empowering the Poor...

The name 'Dokra' or Dhokra 'was used originally to indicate a sect of metal crafts-(wo)men who were well known for their metal craft. Dhokra now refers to a metal craft which is tribal in origin. It is mainly found in the tribal areas of Jharkhand, Madhya Pradesh, Odisha, West Bengal and Andhra Pradesh. Dhokra crafts are the items made exclusively by hand, often with the use of simple tools, to give those a decorative and utilitarian value.

The Scheme Gram Vikash Nidhi focuses mainly to promote and support Off-Farm Sectors like Handicraft, Handloom etc. Under this scheme we have created a space for rural artisans of two villages of Rayagada district - (1) Gatiguda of Muniguda Block and (2) Jhigidi of Bissamkatak block. From these two villages we are working with more than 200 artisans. The main objectives of this program are mentioned below:

- To provide solutions in promotion of activities generating/ enhancing livelihoods under the rural Off-farm Sector.
- Organizing new designs and market linkage trainings for skill up-gradation of tribal artisans.
- To support rural artisans for formation of Off-farm Producer Organizations (OFPOs) in clusters to take up collective business activities, capacity building and develop market linkages.
- To support marketing activities of dhokra craft and tribal jewellery of rural artisans.
- To support innovations in off-farm sector through Rural Business Incubation Centers.

We at Kala Punaruthan aim to empower artisans to produce beautiful Dhokra jewellery, home décor and utility Items those having market value and appeal for mass audience.

For business development of Dhokra products, artisans were contributed 1000 rupees each as a share. During this quarter we have distributed 152 nos. of share certificates to artisans of Kankeri, jhigidi and Gatiguda villages.
